

Gemini, Jet Builders Walkout At St. Louis

May Effect Two Space Launchings

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—More than 17,000 machinists struck the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. at midnight Thursday stopping production on jet fighters used in Viet Nam and threatening to delay the launching of two Gemini flights from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

About 200 machinists set up a picket line at one of five gates at Cape Kennedy, where Gemini 6 and 7 are to be launched Dec. 4 and Dec. 13.

Another 17,000 machinists, almost half of the McDonnell employees, walked out at the huge aerospace plant in St. Louis, halting work on 50 Phantom jets, the type used by United States forces in Viet Nam.

Eugene Glover, vice president of District 9 of the International Association of Machinists, and company officials flew to Washington for a meeting today with federal mediators.

Spokesmen for the company and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a prolonged strike could upset the Gemini launchings.

The strike also will affect McDonnell aircraft and testing operations at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and Holloman Air Force Base, Alamogordo, N.M.

However, other work at Cape Kennedy is not expected to be affected. By picketing only one gate, the machinists allowed some 3,000 union construction employees working on space projects with other aerospace firms to enter without crossing picket lines.

McDonnell machinists had staged a four-day wildcat strike in St. Louis one week earlier when union leaders would not authorize a walkout.

They returned to work after union officials promised to authorize a strike if the latest company offer was rejected. More than 11,000 machinists jammed into a downtown auditorium to vote down the offer overwhelmingly Wednesday.

McDonnell's last offer of a nine-cent-an-hour wage increase for each of the next three years was termed a fair offer by local union leaders. But they balked at company rejection of a modification of a no-strike clause, loosening of a wage freeze to permit qualified employees to move up, better distribution of overtime, additional paid holidays, more accurate job descriptions and better vacation and sick leave benefits.

The storm began its retreat from Southern California Thursday, as a fair and warm weather high pressure moved northward from Mexico.

The temperature Friday was 30 at 7 a.m., and 51 at noon. Low Thursday night was 30.

The temperature one year ago today was high 39; low 30; two years ago, high 53; low 39; three years ago, high 40; low 36.

NEW YORK (AP)—Memorial observances will be held in many parts of America for President John F. Kennedy on Monday, the second anniversary of his assassination.

Gov. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, the slain president's home state, proclaimed a John F. Kennedy Memorial Week starting Sunday.

Said his proclamation: "It is fitting that now, two years after his death, we recall not the grief which was felt in every nation at the shocking tragedy of his assassination, but the challenge which he extended to all Americans — that of personal sacrifice and heartfelt endeavor for one's country — for he will long symbolize the ultimate acceptance of that challenge."

In Dallas, where Kennedy was shot on Nov. 22, 1963, there were plans to mark the anniversary with a number of church services and the placing of wreaths at the assassination site.

One of the wreaths will be placed by Miss Laura Alexander, recently named "Democratic Woman of the Year," on behalf of the Democratic clubs of Dallas County. Democratic women of Dallas County will attend a memorial Mass at Sacred Heart Cathedral.

The Knights of Columbus Council in west Dallas planned a memorial and wreath-laying Sunday afternoon.

Storm Veers North With Fury of Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Pacific Ocean storm veered north today, concentrating its fury on the northern West Coast and letting the sun come through in rain-plagued Southern California.

On its changed course, the storm developed a higher ratio of wind to rain than in the five preceding days when it dumped more than five inches of rain on an area centered around Los Angeles.

Blasts of 60 miles an hour hit Cape Blanco on the Oregon coast, carrying a half inch of rain in six hours. North Bend, Ore., measured three-fourths of an inch, but Portland, Ore., and Seattle had less than a half.

Gale force winds—62 miles an hour at Tatoosh Island—pushed inland the showers that became light snows in the northern and central Rockies. The Weather Bureau said they would reach the plains east of the mountains.

The woods and lakes country of the northern Mississippi River watershed got more snow flurries and severe chill this morning. Early morning lows were 14 above at Park Falls, Wis., and Bemidji, Minn. The cold spread westward into North Dakota and southward into Illinois.

The storm began its retreat from Southern California Thursday, as a fair and warm weather high pressure moved northward from Mexico.

The temperature Friday was 30 at 7 a.m., and 51 at noon. Low Thursday night was 30.

The temperature one year ago today was high 39; low 30; two years ago, high 53; low 39; three years ago, high 40; low 36.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Santa Claus is on the way to American troops in Viet Nam.

There was a breath of spring in Washington.

A Brink's bandit has been placed on the FBI list of 10 most-wanted men.

SANTA CLAUS: Weekend fliers of the Air National Guard are winging out over the Pacific in a giant air lift to take Christmas cookies, candy, gifts and mail to servicemen in Viet Nam.

The first of an estimated 75 missions began Thursday when a strato-cruiser cargo plane manned by fliers from Tennessee took off from Ft. Campbell, Ky., home of the 101st Airborne Division with 4,500 pounds of home-made cookies. It stopped later at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas to load another 5,000 pounds of Christmas presents.

The airlift known as "Operation Christmas Star" was undertaken when it became apparent that gifts and mail for troops in Viet Nam would exceed capacity of regular Air Force transportation.

National Guard fliers were asked to volunteer for the 11,000-mile flights.

SPRING: It was cold and blustery, but Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson wielded a gold-plated spade to plant two Japanese cherry trees—of the type that provide an annual spring show of bloom in the national capital.

The two trees are symbolic of a gift of 3,800 cherry trees by Japan. The others will be planted in more routine manner by the Park Service.

BANDIT: A man charged with blowing open a Brink's vault in Syracuse, N.Y., with an antitank gun and stealing $423,000 was placed on the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted men today.

The FBI identified him as Joel Singer, 22, of Montreal. An alleged accomplice, Jack Frank, was arrested by the FBI Nov. 1.

About two dozen shells from the 20mm cannon blasted the 18-inch-thick steel vault walls open over the weekend of Oct. 23-24.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of Air National Guardsmen—most of them weekend fliers—have a 10-day trip in their future. They're going to fly Christmas gifts to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

Volunteer National Guard crews of nine men each will fly an estimated 75 missions to Viet Nam in the next month, carrying cookies, cakes, candy and mail.

The first of the flights left Nashville, Tenn., Thursday, with 4,500 pounds of home-baked cookies. A few hours later, the plane picked up another 5,000 pounds of Christmas gifts at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, Tex. Then it headed west for the 11,000-mile trip to South Viet Nam.

The cookie-laden transport was the first plane of "Operation Christmas Star," a program designed to make sure that Christmas gets to Viet Nam this year.

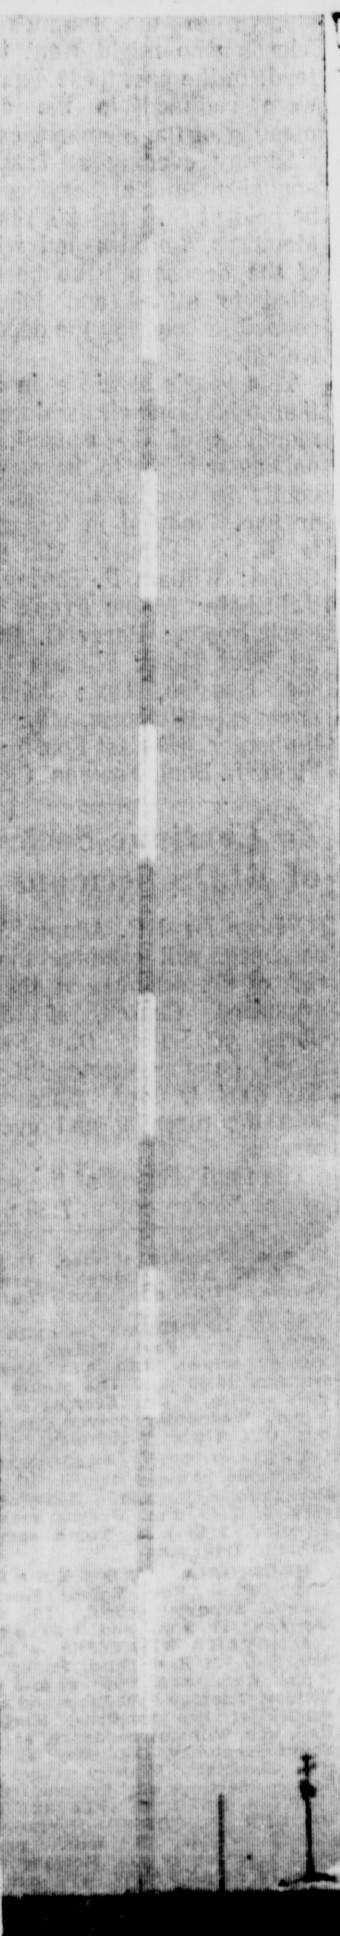

The airlift was devised after officials realized that Americans — anxious to show their support for U.S. servicemen overseas — were volunteering more Christmas gifts than normal Air Force transportation could handle.

POPLAR BLUFF MAN Killed In Viet Nam

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—Army Spec 4 Dale Francis Hudson, 27, of Poplar Bluff was killed in action in Viet Nam Wednesday, the Defense Department told his brother Thursday.

His brother, Bob Hudson of Poplar Bluff, said Hudson was killed after his unit of the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division had completed an assault mission.

Hudson, a former hospital orderly, was due to get out of the Army next month.

NEARLY READY — A new tower south of Sedalia just west of Highway 65 now dominates the high point on the local skyline. Stretching 540 feet into the air, the tower is being erected by a Texas firm under private contract for Cablevision, Inc., which will use it to pickup television signals, amplify them and then disperse the signals over CATV cables to Sedalia customers. Final touches were being put to the tower when this photo was made Thursday afternoon. An electric utility pole at the right of the tower offers a comparison in size for the tower. Air Cavalrymen Push Cong Hunt In Ia Drang Valley

Beat Off Four Attacks In Bloodiest Assaults

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. air cavalrymen on the Ia Drang Valley front pushed out today in search of their Communist attackers after beating off four North Vietnamese assaults during the night.

Moving out from a position just outside the valley in the remote highlands near the Cambodian border, the bloodied but still battling Americans reported 21 of the enemy had been killed and one captured during the night and today.

Milestone Reached In Declaration

Council Bishops Approve Religious Liberty Document

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted final approval today for a Roman Catholic declaration that all men must have religious liberty.

The council bishops accepted the document, a milestone in their Church's 2,000-year history, by a vote of 1,954-249.

The vote in St. Peter's basilica ended work on the declaration which sets a new tone for Catholic relations with other Christians and non-Christians. It recognizes the rights of followers of non-Catholic faiths to worship according to their conscience.

Meanwhile, an effort by Archbishop Philip Hannan of New Orleans to amend the council's denunciation of nuclear weapons ended in failure.

Council spokesman announced that the bishops on Wednesday gave more than the required two-thirds majority vote to the assembly's declaration deploring nuclear stockpiling. Archbishop Hannan, former auxiliary bishop of Washington, D.C., had proposed changes that would have accepted such stockpiling under certain conditions as a defensive deterrent. The vote was 1,656-45, with 523 others voting approval "with reservations."

Mortar fragments damaged a large, troop-carrying Chinook helicopter and a light spotter helicopter.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were engaged in a major buildup to reinforce the hard-pressed cavalrymen. A South Vietnamese force of regimental size was moved into the battle area about 35 miles south of Pleiku and 6 miles east of the Cambodian border.

American transport planes ferried gasoline, ammunition and food into Pleiku.

At Pleiku airport, 1st Cavalry details were trying to identify dozens of American bodies brought in Thursday. The Communists had removed all identification from the soldiers slain in an ambush Wednesday.

In marked contrast to their hit-and-run tactics earlier in the war, the Communists showed no sign of breaking off their attacks despite their heavy losses.

U.S. officers believe that the Communists badly need a major victory over U.S. forces to bolster their morale, feed their propaganda mills and move toward a position of strength from which to bargain in any peace negotiations which might develop.

The Americans also showed no sign of retreating. Their losses were not known because American losses in specific actions are not announced. But the cavalrymen this week have suffered the heaviest American losses of the war.

The Pentagon said Thursday that 108 Americans were killed and 350 wounded in South Viet Nam during the week that ended Monday night. It was the largest U.S. casualty total for any one week in Viet Nam, and it included only part of the fighting in the Ia Drang Valley.

The judge believes that requiring students to write about traffic deaths "introduces them to the horrible experiences in a safe and sane manner."

Only two students have received that punishment, but May said there will be others.

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police Judge Jack May has added a new punishment to his unorthodox list of sentences for teen-age traffic violators.

May sentences high school students who violate traffic laws to write their own obituaries.

"I think teen-agers, while they may be physically fit and alert, are not good drivers for the simple reason they have no experience and don't know the horror that can result from wrecks," May, 39, said in an interview.

Bargaining Overhaul

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay, emphasizing that a New York City transit strike cannot be permitted, has called for a complete overhaul of the city's labor bargaining procedures.

A possible solution, he said, might lie in the city's universities. "Professors with tenure and no ax to grind would be a better form of mediation," he said.

The Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, has threatened to call a strike of 33,000 subway and bus workers when its contract expires Dec. 31.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in a month, the government announces plans to reduce its metal stockpile.

The Justice Department searches for a way to reform the jury system.

A president and a princess dance.

COPPER: The government plans to put 200,000 tons of its stockpiled copper up for sale.

The principal reasons: to ease a world shortage and combat recent U.S. price increases.

Secretary of Defense Robert C. McNamara announced the decision only one week after a similar proposal forced the aluminum industry to rescind a price boost.

McNamara says the copper sales were discussed with U.S. producers and "I think they will fully support this action."

JURY REFORM: "... Prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries," the President said.

As a result, the Justice Department is trying to prepare legislation to satisfy the order. No one knows yet what form it will take.

Says one official: "It's just too early to begin discussing the possibilities. Right now what we've got to do is study the Southern jury system as it is today."

"And then we're faced with a whole batch of problems in coming up with legislation that will do the job without violating the Constitution."

PARTY: President Johnson and Princess Margaret of England had the first dance at a White House party which didn't break up until 2 a.m.

The affair also served as a celebration for the 31st wedding anniversary of the President and Mrs. Johnson.

And it marked the first time that their 18-year-old daughter Luci had been noticed wearing a diamond ring on the third finger of her left hand.

The ring revived reports that perhaps Luci and her escort, 23-year-old Pat Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., are planning to marry.

The White House press office wasn't commenting, and Luci couldn't be contacted.

Winter Vacation Becomes Form of Social Upmanship

NEW YORK (AP)—Taking a winter vacation has become a form of social upmanship. The fellow who goes on one feels vastly superior to the rest of us paycheck prisoners who, because of family reasons, can only get away during the mobbed months of June, July and August.

But going on a vacation during the cold months isn't necessarily a sign of wealth. Many people live on bean soup the rest of the year so they can afford to splurge on one.

No man ever took a winter vacation and kept it quiet. Weeks before the event he tours the office showing glamorous travel folders. He actually is trying to make everyone else envious, but he pretends to be seeking advice.

"Where do you think I should go?" he asks.

You have a definite idea, but you're too polite to make the suggestion.

Those who go to snowy places suffer from a lifelong trauma as a result of having seen the film "Nanook of the North" during their childhood. They trudge out of the office wearing heavy boots and carrying a pair of rented skis across their shoulders.

A week or two later they return on crutches with a foot swathed in bandages and their eyes hidden behind a pair of dark, dark sunglasses.

"Broke my ankle doing a slalom down the most dangerous slope," a typical victim explains. "The ski surgeon says it's the worst break he's seen in 30 years."

You give a few sympathetic clucks, and then make the mistake of inquiring, "Why the sunglasses?" That gives him just the opening he has been looking for.

"Just a touch of snow blindness," he remarks with casual heroism. "I had to lie there untended all day before they found me. Then it took four men all that night and the next day to carry me down the mountain during a raging blizzard."

Actually, you know in your heart that the liar probably never even got out in the snow, and probably broke his ankle and got a black eye falling off a bar stool back in the ski lodge. But how can you prove it?

Just as wearing to listen to are the adventures of one who cruised to sunny climes.

"What do you think of my tan?" is his beginning line.

"Great," you reply. "You look brown as a nut."

That doesn't stop him. He tells you how he ate at the captain's table every night, how he calmed the other passengers as the ship wallowed through the howling storm ever known at sea, how during a stop at the Island of Yama Yama he became the first white man ever to attend a native Voodoo rite.

Long after the first robin of spring has come, he is still babbling to you about all the fun he had while you were busy in the office doing his job as well as your own.

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — Millions of sea worms rose to the surface off islands in the Fiji group this week. One observer reported they were so thick in some places that they could almost be walked on.

The worms, called balolo by the Fijians, rise once a year — usually when the sun and moon are in certain positions — to breed.

Barbarians at the Gates

A lot of people do not like any effort to find parallels between the decline of the Roman Empire and the troubles of Western civilization today. But some long viewers keep trying.

They single out the period from about 200 A.D. on, long before the empire really had crumbled and the barbarian invaders were at Rome's gates.

It was a time of prosperity for city and empire. Living wore a high gloss. The second of the two great classical civilizations offered a bright facade.

Yet behind it, moral decay already was far advanced. Corruption was a commonplace. Standards of conduct had sunk perilously low. Most of those who governed lacked either the will or the capacity to impose more than superficial order.

The seeds of destruction had germinated and were growing. Rome's greatness had lost its power and vigor even as its surface added sheen. When the invaders struck, they crushed an empty shell.

The Americans and Western Europe are not Rome. The West's power is immense and still growing. It too has a bright facade—new buildings, new products of industry, new leaps into space and other unknowns by science.

But this also is something of a false front, though to a lesser degree than was true in third-century Rome.

We live in an era where, increasingly, crime and corruption not only exist but are widely tolerated. While we comfort ourselves with the "only a minority does it" excuse, the absolute number of transgressors multiplies enormously.

Often guilt in high public places is either not acknowledged or not understood by the guilty. Some men, admitting guilt, seem to think a proper response is to say they will cease misbehaving when others do.

Lines between acceptable behavior and misconduct are fuzzily drawn. Some persons can see no difference between character assassination of an acquaintance at a party and thousands of dollars worth of vicious vandalism done to an expensive home.

Morality weakens at all economic levels, in all parts of this land. Knowing the burden will fall on insurance firms, and be widely spread in higher premiums for all, juries award fantastic sums to the injured in automobile accidents. But a survey in one city shows juries seldom impose stiff penalty on persons who have killed others in such accidents.

Manners sag along with morals. Much public behavior today finds the individual moving as if in a magic capsule, indifferent to all about him.

A civilization, in its biggest acts and its smallest, is made and maintained by men who care. Relatively, they are a diminishing number in our life today.

If we do not find more of them, the troublesome "minority" may become a majority one day. Then the power and vigor and spirit of this great civilization would be gravely menaced.

Junketing Solons Hit Lei-Luau Trail

WASHINGTON—The chief of the Army visitors bureau in Hawaii, Lt. Col. Robert F. Blume, has a tough time now that Congress is out of session. About half the congressional junkets stop off in Hawaii, and he has to meet the planes, arrange hotel reservations, answer questions about night clubs and bathing beaches, then see the visitors off again on the right plane.

No less than 28 representatives and senators are listed to travel across the Pacific, stopping at Honolulu, during the month of November alone.

The efficient Army has carefully prepared a list of each visiting solon with the time of arrival, time of departure, hotel and the primary purpose behind the junket. Most of the congressmen have listed as their primary interest "Cinpac," which, translated literally, means commander-in-chief, Pacific, and covers the entire Pacific. But one group of congressmen, representing the House labor and education committee, listed as their interest "Pacaf," the abbreviation for the Air Force in the Pacific.

Here is the official list of "distinguished personnel" distributed November 4 by the Army's Pacific visitors bureau so its personnel can make congressional junketeers feel at home.

Listed for arrival Nov. 7 at 10:30 a.m. on Pan American Airways flight 2 were Senators Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., and Joe Tydings, D-Md., members of the Senate judiciary committee.

Listed for Nov. 9 at 5:15 p.m. on an Air Force C-121 jet were the following members of the House committee on science and astronautics: Olin Teague, Tex., Bob Casey, Tex., Emilio Daddario, and Robert Gaijmo, both Conn., Edward Boland, Mass., and Torbert MacDonald, Mass., all Democrats. They are listed by the Army as billeted at the Hawaiian Village Hotel, one of the plush hostilities in the Pacific, to remain there till Nov. 11 at 4 p.m., thus giving them two days of sunshine on Waikiki.

Listed to arrive Nov. 11 at 6:30 a.m. were the following members of the House education and labor committee on special air mission transportation: John Dent, Pa., Gus Hawkins, Calif., William Ford, Mich., Patsy Mink, Hawaii, all Democrats, and William Ayres, Ohio, Republican. They too were billeted at the Hawaiian Village Hotel and scheduled to leave Nov. 14, thus giving them three days to enjoy the balmy air of Honolulu.

Beachhead Operation

Listed for arrival in Honolulu on Nov. 12, coming from Manila on Philippine flight 100, were two Democratic members of the House judiciary committee: Robert Ashmore, S.C., and George F. Senner, Jr., Ariz. They were scheduled to remain in Honolulu until Nov. 14 at 2 p.m., thus giving them a little over two days of Hawaiian sunshine.

Scheduled for arrival on Nov. 14 at 3:55

Henry Wallace Made America Think

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — "He was a good man." That was the epitaph from President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey when they heard Thursday that Henry A. Wallace had died at 77.

Long ago Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt praised his integrity, too, but she called him an "inept politician." Between those phrases hung the life and story of an earnest, busy, optimistic and naive man.

He was probably never more honest than in admitting how naive he was. He said he was grossly wrong in misreading Russia's intentions after the war.

In a speech, he had denounced this country's stern post-war policy with the Soviets — although Russia had grabbed Eastern Europe as a vast satellite. Because of the denunciation, President Harry S. Truman fired him as secretary of commerce.

Truman didn't look too good in this. Both the New York Times and the Washington Post reported Truman had approved the speech before Wallace delivered it.

Later in his memoirs Truman denied he had ever read the speech. Wallace denied that, saying he had gone over it page by page with Truman. But in this episode Wallace didn't look too good, either.

In the prepared text of his speech he had a number of criticisms of Russia. But when he mentioned the first one and was jeered in New York's Madison Square Garden he omitted all the others.

He explained later he did this to save time because he was on radio. But it was a sensational speech, besides criticizing Truman's foreign policy. In it Wallace called for an end to segregation in all spheres of American life and suggested the world be divided into two spheres of influence, one dominated by Russia, the other by the West.

In New Deal days reporters called him the worst-dressed man in Washington. For many, he was a nightmare to interview for he could be vague and had a habit of suddenly going silent in the middle of a sentence.

He dabbled in astrology, and in middle-age as vice president threw boomerangs and liked to wrestle. But his real field, from which he started and to which he returned, was agriculture. He made important contributions to plant genetics and was among the developers of hybrid strains of corn.

He was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's agriculture secretary from 1933 to 1941 and his vice president from 1941 to 1945. But the politicians had no use for him and in 1944 persuaded Roosevelt not to insist on keeping him for another term. They picked Truman and Wallace became secretary of commerce, but a critic in that job of American foreign policy.

It was no doubt fortunate for the country that Truman, not Wallace, succeeded to the presidency in 1945. From what Wallace admitted later — his failure to understand Russian communism — it's hard to imagine what might have happened if he had become president.

In 1948 he ran for the presidency himself on the left-wing Progressive party ticket, lost badly and quit the party two years later when the leaders of it wouldn't back him in supporting Truman's stand on Korea.

In 1952, he said the Russians had misled him into believing they "really wanted and needed peace." He said he had finally come to look upon Soviet communism as "utterly evil."

He mixed goodness with optimism and as early as 1942 began calling for a new kind of peaceful and prosperous world society after the war. He described this as the century of the common man.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Retire, Stay Active Mentally, Physically

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A reader writes that her husband retired about a year ago and that since then he sleeps 12 to 14 hours a day. Although at the moment he is in robust health, he spends most of his waking hours eating and watching television. Her concern is that he is not getting enough exercise and that there has been no lessening of her own work load.

This woman has touched on a problem of growing importance. A man should not merely retire from something — he should retire to something, something of value to his community. This requires prior planning but in every community there is a need for many skills and services that could occupy the time and interest of men in every walk of life.

In some instances this may take the form of part-time paid employment and in others it may be voluntary service to a religious, civic or charitable organization.

I cannot predict how long this woman's husband will keep his robust health but I do know that many men who have been used to working have cracked up mentally and physically after a few months of purposeless living.

In preparation for retirement it is wise to develop habits of study. Anyone can build up an interest in some aspect of the fascinating world in which we live. With no pressure to keep up with a class, a man can proceed at his own pace and develop inner resources that will enrich his years of retirement.

Neglect of all forms of exercise will bring my reader's husband muscular flabbiness, an increased risk of obesity and heart disease and mental stagnation. Incidentally, he could make a good beginning by being helpful around the house and making things easier for his wife. Happiness, like charity, should begin at home and doing for others is still the most direct route to happiness.

Q — Why is a tonsillectomy not advisable for an adult if his tonsils are diseased and he has had many attacks of strep throat?

A — With the advent of penicillin and the sulfonamides, it became possible to control streptococcal infections without removal of the tonsils, which act as a barrier to prevent local infections from spreading throughout the body. In rare instances in adults the tonsils may be so enlarged that they interfere with swallowing. In such case your doctor would be justified in recommending their removal.

'New Math' Still Embattled

By SUSAN LIGHT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR READERS: The "new math" continues to stir up a storm. Below are excerpts from two letters I received in the same mail:

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: As a second grade teacher, I have some reservations about the "new math" producing all the wonderful reasoning power claimed for it. There are children in my class for whom the simplest manipulations are very difficult. I try to picture them mastering other number systems when they can't even grasp the idea of our own 10 system.

Already our upper classes are behind, and there is discussion about passing books on into the next higher grades. There has been so much emphasis on new ideas that there wasn't time to nail down all the necessary processes formerly taught in one year.

I started teaching during the wave of enthusiasm created by the elimination of phonics. When I returned to teaching, I was glad that phonics was back in academic good standing. I can't help wondering if, in years to come, much of this furor will have subsided and the powers-that-be will realize that children have to memorize some facts without complete understanding, and the old math will not seem so bad after all.—UNCONVINCED

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I am a teacher who received a National Science Foundation Scholarship to study the "new math" for eight weeks this summer. Perhaps "Skeptical Teacher" (who wrote to you last spring) had only enough modern math to make her miserable and not delighted—as I am with it.

In her letter, "Skeptical Teacher" revealed perhaps more than she realized. A sales lady would do very little selling if she were not "sold" on her goods. Could it be that, subconsciously, children "catch on" to the teacher's reaction?

Dislike for arithmetic is not confined to modern math. A pure phil once came to me with this attitude, "Arithmetic! I call it 'arithmesick' because it makes me sick."

I don't see how modern math could possibly produce more than one-third of a class as failures—as I've found occurs yearly with traditional arithmetic. I'm ready for the blast-off of modern math. It can stay in orbit with the right blast-off!—AN OPTIMISTIC TEACHER

The bidding as shown in the box was the same at both tables in the match between Belgium and The Netherlands in the European bridge championship tourney. So was the opening lead of the spade queen which was ducked by both declarers. They had to win the next spade and struggle with a very tough contract. Each declarer made it but strangely enough, the lines of play were radically different.

One South lead a diamond to dummy's ace and returned a diamond toward his own hand. Then he held back his queen and watched West take his king. West cleared the spade suit but South had nine top tricks at his disposal.

The other South went right after hearts by leading ace and jack. East won with the queen and led a third spade.

Declarer won and entered dummy with the ace of diamonds in order to cash his three remaining hearts.

He discarded down to the queen-eight of diamonds and the ace-nine of clubs. West had to discard in back of him and finally came down to the king of diamonds, one spade and the king-ten of clubs.

South wasn't sure exactly which four cards West held since West had false-carded with the ten of clubs in order to hang on to the king-deuce but East had thrown away his last spade so that West was marked with one spade only. Eventually, South read the club false-card and played a diamond, whereupon West could take one spade and one diamond only.

The Paper Anniversary

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Recently my husband and I celebrated our first wedding anniversary. We planned the party and then I started to worry about getting enough dishes to serve 25 people. Finally it occurred to me that on a paper anniversary it would certainly be appropriate to use paper. We had paper plates, cups, napkins and a paper cloth and even continued the idea for a centerpiece of paper flowers. Our guests were delighted and I was also spared a lot of worry and dishwashing.—MARILYN

Now there is a clever girl. She found a way out of her dilemma and turned the whole problem into an asset for a successful party.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—We often hear of children becoming ill because of drinking household cleaning fluids, hair dye and so on. So I always rinse every empty can or bottle with clear water no matter what it held when full. I have three small children and this has given me more peace of mind. I do not worry about the garbage tins as I used to. Not only are there no harmful liquids for little ones to get but the number of insects is reduced around the garbage can.—MRS. L. C. W.

DEAR POLLY — My hint is for the men whose shirts are folded at the laundry. I used to have to pull a shirt apart to tell if it had short sleeves, French cuffs or regular cuffs. I solved this problem by using a red marking pen to make a dot on the inside of the collar of my short-sleeved shirts. Green is used on those with French cuffs and no mark at all means the shirt has regular cuffs. A note of caution—when marking your shirts, open the collars out to lay flat so the dye from the pen does not bleed through to the outside of the collar.—RALPH

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old boy who works after school and on weekends. Please print this letter and make life a lot easier for all of us who are in this line of work.

A customer comes in and says, "I want an ice cream cone." Then I have to ask him, "What kind of ice cream do you want?" The customer says, "What kind do you have?" I have to rattle off the whole list. Our shop has the biggest selection in town—28 flavors. After I go through the list, the customer looks at me and says, "Haven't you got kumquat or loganberry?" When I say "No," he gets a real sad expression on his face and says, "I'll take vanilla."

I get so mad I want to jump over the counter and hit him in the mouth. Can you think of a snappy answer for these clowns? —TOMMY.

Dear Tommy: Customers do not come in for snappy answers. They come in for ice cream.

A shop that features 28 flavors should have a sign listing them. In the meantime, remember that customers may not always be right, but he is always the customer.

Dear Ann Landers: Several days ago our three-year-old son came down with hives all over his body. We called the doctor and he had us bring the boy in for tests.

After the tests were completed the doctor said the boy's hives are caused by an emotional problem. He recommended that we take him to a specialist who deals with disturbed children.

My wife didn't say anything till we got home. Then she really blew her stack. She said, "That doctor is crazy. What can a three-year-old child be disturbed about? He doesn't know about the bomb or Red China. When doctors can't find out what's wrong they always blame an emotional problem."

Now that I think about it, what she said makes sense. We'd like your opinion.—A AND C.

Dear A and C: Very few people get hives because of Red China. What REALLY disturbs people are close-to-home problems—like a domineering husband, a cold mother, a brutal father, a sneaky brother or a ruthless boss. And there's no age limit. It can happen to anybody, anytime. I hope your wife will take the doctor's advice.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is one of the sweetest people who ever lived—after 11 a.m. But when he gets up in the morning, he is grouchy and sullen.

generate energy until noon, so and it's been like this from the beginning. I make special effort to see that his breakfast is exactly the way he wants it. The paper is folded according to his instructions, at the left of his plate. Sometimes he can't find his glasses, so I always have an extra pair on the table.

I force myself to be cheerful and pleasant even when I feel rotten. Nothing helps. Maybe if I understood why he's like this I could accept it. For obvious reasons I can't ask my friends if their husbands behave this way. I'd hate for them to know I have the problem. Thanks for your help.—A.M. BLUES.

The manual outlining Selective Service requirements for draft exemption, would be purchased by Citizens against the Viet Nam war, an adult peace group.

Plush Home On Wheels For Debbie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It all started with that long walk that Debbie Reynolds took in the rain. It has ended with a splendiferous dressing-room trailer that threatens to cause major discontent among her fellow stars.

Between scenes of "The Singing Nun," Miss Reynolds repairs to the most elegant trailer for a star since Marion Davies dwelt in a colonial mansion on wheels. It is lush, plush and glittering, and the former cheerleader from Burbank (Calif.) High School enjoys it unashamedly.

"And why shouldn't I?" she argues. "I spend almost as much time in this dressing room as I do in my own home. If you're going to be a star, you should live like a star."

It was different during her 14 years of servitude at MGM. Then her between-scenes time was spent in a series of shanties. When she was back on the lot for her first film there as a free-lancer, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," she cracked.

"The day that it happened, the rain was coming down like mad," she recalled. "I had to walk four blocks to the bathroom (actors' dressing rooms traditionally have no plumbing), then four blocks back."

"I was out for a week with a cold. That meant $30,000 a day loss to the studio, which seems like a ridiculous thing to have happen because there was no bathroom nearby."

Debbie decided to splurge on a trailer for herself, since the studio wasn't about to do it for her. She ordered a 34-footer and had it especially designed, inside and out. The trailer is divided into three sections: A sitting area with cushiony chairs and couch; the dressing-make-up section, surrounded by full-length mirrors; storage and bath.

"I wanted it done with utter elegance," she explained. "This is what the public expects of movie stars: White mink rugs and champagne."

I noted that the rug was in reality red fox. But the champagne was in the refrigerator. Debbie reported rather gleefully that her dressing room is

Not Too Dangerous

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The commander of America's training program for Viet Nam helicopter pilots, Maj. Gen. John J. Tolson III, commander of the Army aviation center at Ft. Rucker, told the Tennessee Valley chapter of the Association of the U. S. Army that combat helicopter flying is not as dangerous as it might appear.

He said that from December 1961 through August 1965, helicopters were hit by ground fire only once in every 347 combat flights; they were shot down only once in every 8,129 flights, and were lost and not recovered at the rate of one in every 15,341 flights. He did not list the casualty rate of the crews.

11,985 Whitetail Deer Killed During Four Days Of Season

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri hunters have killed 11,985 whitetail deer during the first four days of the gun season. The figure is down more than 5,000 from the same period last year.

Conservation Commission agents pointed out the gun season started at the beginning of the work week this season, whereas it started on Friday last year.

The weather has been generally good.

Benton County continued to lead in deer kills with a four-day total of 690. Texas County was a close second with 649 and Ozark County was third with 529.

One deer brought down in Texas County Thursday was shot by Rodney Mickel, Springfield, Ill., with a flint-lock rifle, a replica of a Revolutionary War gun. It was Mickel's second deer kill with the ancient weapon. He is a corporal in the Illinois Highway Patrol.

Irish Play In Key Game

Tough College Football Schedule Over Weekend

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The clash between Michigan State and Notre Dame, a game that undoubtedly will have a key bearing on the national championship, is one of four big ones that dominate the last full weekend of the college football season.

The games between Arkansas and Texas Tech, Southern California and UCLA, and Princeton and Dartmouth share top billing on a Saturday schedule replete with traditional games, conference championships and struggles for bowl bids.

Of the four, only Texas Tech at Arkansas is scheduled for regional television coverage.

The other regionally televised games are Missouri-Kansas, Harvard-Yale and Ohio State-Michigan.

The traditional games include Kentucky and Tennessee, each hoping for a bowl bid, and Washington-Washington State, with State still technically in the running for a Rose Bowl berth but an outsider to UCLA and Southern California.

Others, with pride, prestige and tradition the principal factors at stake, are Duke and North Carolina, Indiana and Purdue, Northwestern and Illinois, Oregon and Oregon State, Pitt and Penn State.

None, however quite compares with the big four. Here's a thumbnail sketch of each of them:

MICHIGAN STATE AT NOTRE DAME — Michigan State is ranked first in the nation with a 9-0 record and has clinched a spot in the Rose Bowl. Notre Dame is ranked

Calhoun Advances In Tourney

The Calhoun Eagles, mighty despite a lack of size, edged Sweet Springs' Greyhounds 45-42 to advance in the College High Invitational Basketball Tournament at Warrensburg Thursday night.

The Eagles, now holding a 7-0 record for the season, roared into the game with 17 points in the first quarter and 15 in the second for a 32-15 lead over the 'Hounds at the half.

Calhoun held formidable Bob Brown, star shooting ace of the Greyhounds, to a mere five field goals and seven free throws during the game, reducing Brown's usually high scoring performance to 17.

The Eagles, however, almost made some fatal mistakes in the second half. Apparently lulled by their large half-time lead, Calhoun eased their press and seemingly relaxed.

Sweet Springs took immediate advantage, holding Calhoun below ten points in the last two quarters while the 'Hounds dumped in 14 in the third and 13 in the fourth.

Calhoun's leading scorers were Leonard Hall and Mark Molsinger, with 14 and 13 points respectively. Brown, naturally, paced the Sweet Springs attack.

The victory now puts Calhoun against Deepwater at 8 p. m. tonight. Other tournament results were not available.

Score by quarters:
Calhoun 17 15 4 7—45
Sweet Springs 8 7 14 13—42
Individual scoring: Calhoun—Leonard Hall, 6-2-14; Mark Molsinger, 4-5-13; Wally Slack, 4-0-8; Bill Parks, 2-2-6; Larry Avery, 0-2-2; Gerald Newman, 1-0-2. Sweet Springs — Bob Brown, 5-7-17; Warren Sims, 3-3-9; Dewey Sims, 3-1-7; Greg Fischer, 2-1-5; Rickey Rennison, 2-0-4.

fourth with a 7-1 mark and has a policy prohibiting bowl games.

The winner probably will have the inside track to the national championship, determined by The Associated Press poll following the New Year's bowl games.

Michigan State's chief scout, Burt Smith, summarizes the game like this:

"They have a big, tough team with wonderful personnel. They're much like our team — good passing and running and strong on rushing defense. I think the game will go to the team that makes the fewest mistakes."

The game is a toss-up.

Minnesota Picked Over Green Bay

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dutchman won't walk out this week. If the Minnesota Vikings aren't fired up for Green Bay Sunday they never will be. After Norm Van Brocklin's comments about losing the big ones the Vikes should come out swinging.

Things were tough all over for the Hand-picker last week, especially in the AFL, but he skidded through 6-5. That makes it 42-21 in the NFL 18-14-3 in the AFL and 60-35-3 for the year.

Let's try again for Sunday and the two Thanksgiving Day games.

NFL

Minnesota 24, Green Bay 17 — The Vikings are just about out of it and the Packers trail Baltimore by one game with five to go. Absence of Tommy Mason hurts Minnesota and rugged Packer defense will bother Francis Tarkenton. But Green Bay's offense is sick with only 13 points in last two games.

Chicago 24, Detroit 14 — Rudy Bukich on a hot streak, hit for three TDs in earlier 38-10 Bear victory. Lions will put heat on Rudy with great pass rush but interceptions have killed their attack. Terry Barr out for season and Joe Don Looney subpar. Bears will miss Mike Pyle in middle of line.

San Francisco 34, Los Angeles 21 — Swede Sware doing his best to bolster weak pass defense with rookies but John Brodie threw three TDs in early 45-21 romp. The combination of Brodie and Ken Willard's running too much for Rams to handle even with Dick Bass back to help attack.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 21 — No romp for Browns. The Cowboys are tough to run against even with Jim Brown in the cast.

New York 14, St. Louis 13 — It all depends on Charley Johnson, who is hurting again. Giants seem to have hex on Cards, beating them 14-10 Oct. 31 with strong running by Tucker Fredrickson and Steve Thurlow.

Baltimore 31, Philadelphia 14 — Johnny Unitas may be back and if he's not there always is Cuzzo. Eagles can't run on Colt defense but they may be able to pass with Norman Snead.

Pittsburgh 17, Washington 14 — The no-offense battle. Steelers can't afford five interceptions again and Washington defense is capable. Steeler running game should do the job.

THANKSGIVING DAY
Baltimore 24, Detroit 14 — Two games in five days a rugged assignment but Colts appear better equipped.

AFL
New York 20, Houston 17 — Jets are on the move with three straight, thanks to sturdy de-record this season and a string of 21 straight. Texas Tech is No. 9 with an 8-1 mark. The winner gets the host spot in the Cotton Bowl against an opponent to be determined.

Arkansas has clinched at least a share of the Southwest Conference title and can win it outright by beating Texas Tech. Tech can share the crown by beating Arkansas.

Should Tech lose, it will move into the Gator Bowl vs. Georgia Tech. Should Arkansas lose, the Razorbacks probably will go to another bowl, either the Gator or Sugar, the latter opposite Missouri.

Arkansas is a two-touchdown favorite.

UCLA AT SOUTHERN CAL — Southern Cal is ranked sixth in the nation, UCLA seventh. Each has a 6-1 record going into the traditional cross-town clash.

The winner almost certainly will gain the Rose Bowl berth opposite Michigan State. Conference rules prohibit participation in any other bowl. Each has one more game remaining.

Southern Cal, possessing one of the country's most outstanding runners in Mike Garrett, is a one-touchdown favorite.

DARTMOUTH AT PRINCETON — Neither is ranked nationally, although each has an 8-0 record and Princeton has won 17 straight. The winner is the Ivy League champion — nothing more.

League rules prohibit post-season games, which may make this the first time two teams with perfect records have met in the final game of the season and neither had bowl hopes.

Princeton is a one touchdown favorite.

Missouri and Florida are the only other ranked teams in action. Missouri, No. 8, takes a 6-2-1 record against Nebraska, while No. 10 Florida has a 6-2 mark going into a night game with Miami, Fla.

Third-ranked Nebraska, 9-0, and fifth-ranked Alabama, 7-1-1, expected to oppose each other in the Orange Bowl, are idle.

Pulford Blameless In Toronto's Lag

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the Toronto Maple Leafs are having a hard time getting started this season, it certainly hasn't been the fault of Bob Pulford.

The veteran center, in his 10th National Hockey League season, figured in all three goals as the Leafs turned back the Canadiens 3-1 in Montreal in the only game played Thursday night.

Pulford and linemates Eddie Shack and Larry Jeffrey collected a goal apiece, all in the third period. Pulford also contributed a pair of assists.

Don Trull's passes and three fumbles ruined New York earlier in 27-21 defeat. It all depends on whether George Blanda is having a hot or cold day.

Kansas City 21, Boston 14 — Chiefs riding high after upset of San Diego with Len Dawson on target again.

Oakland 24, Denver 17 — Two teams tough to figure. They split two exhibition games but Broncos are vulnerable to air game and Raiders boast good defense.

THANKSGIVING DAY
San Diego 24, Buffalo 21 — After a day off Sunday both Chargers and Bills should be ready.

Against Jayhawker Squad

Another Close Contest Anticipated For Tigers

COLUMBIA, MO., Nov. 19 — (Special) — With two exceptions in the last decade, the throbbing football border dispute between Missouri and Kansas has been decided by a touchdown or less.

This might be the case again Saturday at Lawrence when 45,000 customers over-run Memorial Stadium for this regionally televised game between the two old foes. Kickoff for the 74th M.U.-K.U. bout, oldest collegiate rivalry west of the Mississippi, is 2 p. m.

The Tigers, of course, will be favorites off a 6-2-1 record, but it's been an underdog's game most of the time. Certain to pep up an already-aroused Jayhawker squad is Mizou's role as a Sugar Bowl entry. The Bengals accepted their ninth post-season bid — and second to New Orleans — last Saturday after stopping Oklahoma, 30-0, for the most decisive Mizou win in the long series.

There's been nothing decisive, however, about eight of the ten Mizou-Kansas football scraps in recent years. During that time, there have been two ties, five other games decided by a combined total of 13 points, and a single one-touchdown triumph.

Only twice since 1955 did the victor win comfortably. Last-minute heroics weren't needed in K.U.'s 23-7 stunner over the No. 1 ranked Tigers in 1960, spoiling a perfect season for M.U.; and upset Missouri's 34-14 romp last year here.

Devine can be pardoned for a jittery outlook this week. Psychologically, he is feeling the pinch. The Jayhawks should be juiced-up. The Tigers may be planning ahead. It's a situation somehow reminiscent of 1960.

Missouri's seniors, though, have never lost a varsity game to their next-door rivals. And Devine can be comforted by the fact that the Bengals have played error-free football in their last two wins over Colorado and O.U.

Jayhawk defenses will be geared to stop Mizou's leading threats, quarterback Gary Lane and halfback Charlie Brown. Lane, scoring four touchdowns and passing for two others in his last two starts, is tied for the Big Eight scoring lead with 48 points.

Brown, the scurrying 180-pounder, is leading the conference rushing pack with 779 yards and a 5-yard average. Incidentally, the slithery Jefferson Citizen needs just 52 yards Saturday to surpass Johnny R. land's sophomore harvest of 830, made in 1962, and the best one-season rushing yardage since Bob Steuber stepped off 1098 yards in 1942.

Defensively, Ol' Mizou will have to plot a scheme to stop little Bill Fenton, the wispy K.U. signal-caller and, ailing Bob Skahan who probably will test the Bengals' aerial fortifications. Mike Johnson, best of the K.U. running backs, and Dan Miller are two other threats in Coach Jack Mitchell's camp.

Two years ago at Lawrence, Lane — troubled with tonsillitis — did not start. However, he quarterbacked the Missourians to a second-half touchdown, and led an unflinching, late drive that was climaxed by Bill Leistriz's field goal. The Tigers snatched that one out of the coals, 9-7.

The poised senior leader, just 12 yards short of the select 3,000-yard total offense set, may have to go the full route Saturday. Gary Kombrink, his immediate understudy, sprained an ankle and Lloyd Carr — No. 3 entry — separated a shoulder in brief appearances last Saturday.

Oklahoma State Is Picked Over 'Cats

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's Kansas-Missouri time at Lawrence and cellar-escaping time at Stillwater in Big Eight football. Missouri is strongly favored to win and take a 7-2-1 record to the Sugar Bowl while unbeaten Nebraska marks time until its Thanksgiving date with Oklahoma.

Oklahoma State, 0-5 in league play, is favored over Kansas State, 0-6, at Stillwater. The winner likely will escape the cellar.

Big Eight teams will go outside the league Saturday for a pair of attractive games. Iowa State, 5-3-1, plays at New Mexico, 2-6, and Colorado, 5-2-2, is at Air Force, 3-5-1. Colorado already is assured of its best season since 1961.

Jack Mitchell is suffering through his first losing season at Kansas since 1958 and the Jayhawks at 2-7 have their worst record since 1954. But upsets tested this year, may backstop Lane this week.

In the line, Missouri should have the edge in left and experience although defense has been the Jayhawks' strongest suit. The cast was removed Tuesday from Russ Washington's strained knee, and the huge rookie end could return to duty this week.

He's been capably replaced, though, by junior Dan Schuppan — a reliable handyman who moved in for injured Tom Lynn on the other flank earlier this season.

Mizzou leads in the overall series, 34 to 30, with 9 ties. In their personal rivalry, Devine has a 4-2-1 edge over K.U.'s Jack Mitchell.

KICKOFF: 2 p. m. (CST) at Memorial Stadium, Lawrence, Kan.; expected attendance: 45,000; offensive formations: Missouri — Winged T, unbalanced line; Kansas — Winged T.

are common in the series, filled with last-minute decisions.

Dan Devine, Missouri coach, is worried about the distractions of planning for New Orleans and the added incentive the bowl selection gives Kansas in the 74th game of the traditional series, the nation's fifth oldest.

But Missouri is loaded with size, talent and experience. Kansas will have its oft-injured quarterback, Bob Skahan, for part-time duty.

Phil Cutchin, OSU coach, is concerned about a letdown after his team's great effort in a 21-17 last-minute loss to Nebraska. A year ago, OSU also gave the Huskers a big fight. The next week, K-State beat OSU.

The two best passers in Iowa State history will be on opposite sides at Albuquerque—Tim Van Gilder, current Cyclone quarterback, and Bill Weeks, the New Mexico coach. A 6-3-1 finish would be Iowa State's best since 1960.

Kansas worked on its kicking and goal-line defense, as befits the underdog, in winding up its preparations for Saturday's annual battle with Missouri.

Both camps were preoccupied with drawing the line between the fit and the feeble.

Russell Washington, Missouri's giant defensive end, was counted out because of a knee injury which has hobbled him for two weeks.

Coach Devine indicated four players who have been in the hospital with the flu will be ready for the Jayhawks — Jim Willsey, Mike Eader and Gary Frieders at guard and Dick Kistner at center.

At Lawrence, Coach Mitchell tabbed Rich Pratt to start at guard and Bob Hudspeth at tackle despite the leg injuries they've been nursing. Fullback Mike Johnson, Steve Heck, a guard on offense, and Ward Coleman, a defensive back, are expected to see some action, but injuries will keep them from starting.

Kansas State will send twenty-one seniors to Stillwater, but three — Willie Jones, Doug Nutter and Jim Perry — are injured and probably will not play.

Oklahoma State eased off Thursday after working for an hour on tactics.

Oklahoma State and Oklahoma play the final game of the Big Eight season on Dec. 4 at Norman.

The Sooners had only a light workout Thursday, and the coaching staff said they will buckle down today for the Thanksgiving Day game with Nebraska at Lincoln.

The unbeaten Cornhuskers, ranked No. 3 nationally and bound for the Orange Bowl, will see today if their pint-sized fullback, Frank Solich, has a chance of getting well in time for the Oklahoma game. He bruised a knee returning a kickoff last week.

Favor Brown In N.C.A.A. Track Event

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — The longer distance coaches believe, will strengthen the United States for the 10,000 meters in international meets. Brown won the NCAA outdoor six mile in record time of 27:59.2 and rallied to nip Lawson in 13:40.2 in the three mile. A photograph was needed to decide the winner last June at Berkeley, Calif. Lawson won the Central Collegiate cross country on a five-mile course in Chicago a week ago, with Sam Bair of Kent State second and Benton third. Lawson won the big Eight crown over three miles. The field includes eight members of the 1964 NCAA all-America team. Thirty-six schools entered full teams and 17 at least one man. About 200 will compete. The placings of the best five men are added for each team and the low score wins.

Council Backs Bid For '72 Olympics

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal City Council has enthusiastically backed Mayor Jean Drapeau's plan to bid for the 1972 Summer Olympic games in Montreal.

The council authorized the mayor Thursday night to present an official invitation to the International Olympic Committee in Lausanne, Switzerland, to choose this city for the games. Calgary is expected to make an application for the 1972 Winter Games.

TALENTED COMPUTER—Computers are moving in everywhere. Now it's art. Dr. Robert L. Cosgriff, director of the Communication and Control Systems Laboratory at Ohio State University, displays a woman's head "drawn" by a laboratory computer. But it's far from an original creation. Light and dark dots matching sections of a preliminary sketch were programmed into the computer to produce perforated tape. The tape was fed into a special typewriter which reprinted the picture.

At Therapy Center

Pre-School Program Boosts Ability of Slow Learners

One of the many services at the Children's Therapy Center here is the pre-school program for handicapped children, ages 3½ through 6 years. The pre-school operates morning and afternoon sessions during which time a child receives one or more of the various therapies offered and also a pre-school development program.

The word "handicapped" includes those children with problems in all areas. These problems range in severity from the crippling diseases such as cerebral palsy and polio to the difficulties of speech, be it delayed speech or a minor problem of articulation. Other handicaps may be physical, mental or a combination of these.

Mrs. Charlotte Cordry, pre-school teacher, defines the goals of the pre-school program thusly: "In general, our program is considered a time of evaluation and therapy. Our over-all goal is to first determine the needs of an individual child and then to provide for these needs to the fullest extent of the child's capabilities.

"Because so many of these children show a slowness in their development history and consequently acquire speech and other skills more slowly, the program is built around language development, social and mental development.

"Since 75 percent of pre-school enrollment involves those five years and younger, many of our experiences in the classroom must be presented in a play therapy situation rather than an academic nature.

"Therefore, our pre-school program is organized around free play, including areas of housekeeping, painting, block play, and so forth. This is most important for the child who is deficient in creative and imaginative expression.

"Creative rhythms are used to stimulate imagination. Stories, nursery rhymes, poems and finger plays widen the child's experiences. Children are given many opportunities for social development in learning to work and play together."

The Center's fund raising campaign will be conducted Sunday. It is the fifth year that the people of Pettis County have been asked to make contributions so that the work of rehabilitation can go on.

Red Chinese Ban Might Be the Last

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The 47-47 split in the General Assembly on seating Red China plus waning support for U.S. demands that a two-thirds vote decide the issue, aroused speculation today that Peking cannot be barred much longer.

Supporters of the U. S. campaign to keep Red China out of the United Nations admitted privately that they may have scored their last annual victory.

Many diplomats believed the fact that the 117-nation assembly approved the call for a two-thirds majority by a margin of only 7 votes was more significant than the dramatic split over admitting Peking.

The procedural maneuver was approved 56-47 with 11 abstentions, a majority of 20 less than the last vote on the same question four years ago.

The consensus was that if Peking's supporters break the majority barrier next year, they

Churches Avoid War In Viet Nam

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

American church denominations, usually inclined to speak out on moral issues before the nation, today are generally non-committal about the war in Viet Nam.

Many individual clergymen and special groups have voiced firm opinions about the matter, sometimes critical of U.S. policy, and religious periodicals have carried considerable pro-and-con discussion.

But the major denominations, other than pacifist bodies, have largely avoided taking official and definite stands on American military involvement.

"There is no real consensus among American Christians on how to bring about peace with justice in Viet Nam," the president of the National Council of Churches, Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, has said.

The council, including most of the larger Protestant and Orthodox church bodies in the country, has assigned a special panel to rally enough support to admit Red China on a straight vote.

Diplomats noted that if Indonesia had not quit the United Nations last March, Peking may have had the single vote needed to score a simple majority this time.

It was believed that Red China's backers could pick up a number of votes if they did not insist on coupling their call for admission of Peking with demands to oust Nationalist China.

Ceylon tried before Wednesday's vote to delete the ouster demand, but the sponsors refused. Peking has said it will not consider U.N. membership unless the Nationalists are thrown out.

For the first time, the United States found itself the only big power opposing Red China. France switched allegiance after establishing diplomatic relations with Mao Tze-tung's regime last year. Britain supported the two-thirds demand, but voted to seat Red China which it has recognized since 1950.

el of leading churchmen to assess the situation, and also recommend ways to relieve suffering in Viet Nam.

A report is to be made to the board meeting Dec. 2 and 3 in Madison, Wis.

The task of peacemaking has been gradually "withdrawn from the churches," says a Roman Catholic theologian, the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, writing in Worldview about the growing domination of technology.

"Peacemaking in a war atmosphere becomes inevitably the specialty of small groups of diplomats and military experts."

However, amid the contentions that only specialists with inside information are competent to judge the problem, it also is argued that counsellors in the moral dimension also should contribute their insights.

Otherwise, the effect is conformity "to anything the prevailing power structure does." Dr. William Henry Harris, philosophy professor at Southern Illinois University, writes in Christian Century.

He adds: "Making unquestioning support for a government policy the touchstone for patriotism debauches the democratic process."

The Catholic magazine, America, also cites the "present dilemma of dissent."

It says that in the present atmosphere of pacifist protests by fiery self-immolation and draft-card burnings, "responsible debate and dissent so necessary for democratic life are often muffled and distorted in the din."

Nevertheless, some agencies, individual clergy groups and smaller denominations have voiced clear-cut views about the Viet Nam war. A pacifist denomination, the Church of the Brethren, declared officially that U.S. military intervention "tends to escalate us into world war."

Lists of clergy petition signers criticizing U.S. policy also have appeared, including about 3,000 Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic supporters of the "Clergyman's Emergency Committee for Viet Nam."

The Methodist Board of Social Concerns also has voiced misgivings about the U.S. role, but not the denomination as a whole through its representative convention.

The sixth World Order Study Conference in St. Louis last month, bringing together 600 clergy and lay scholars in international affairs, urged the United States to seek an "immediate beginning" of negotiations, to limit its bombings to strictly military targets in the fighting area, and seek a United Nations conference to explore the "long-term" issues.

Which came first?

The Volkswagen engine came first. Then the car was designed to go in front.

(Our engineers claim that the reason for the car is to carry the engine around. While that's a slight exaggeration, we did know all about the engine before we knew anything about the car.

We knew it would go in the back because you get better traction that way.

We knew it would be air-cooled so it wouldn't ever need water or anti-freeze.

We knew it would use pitifully little gas and need precious few repairs.

As you know, we're still at it; we try to make the whole VW better and better every year.

But the engine is still our pride and joy. We machine parts to ridiculous tolerances. We assemble every engine by hand. And we run each one twice (and adjust it twice) before we let it go.

(This year, there's an extra bonus: about 25% more power. But the size is the same and so is the economy.)

All too often, car engines are stuffed in wherever there's room up front.

But we put first things last.
